

Mr. Francesco Tornieri is Principal Social Development Specialist (GAD) at the Asian Development Bank (ADB), South Asia Region Department (SARD) and a member of the ADB Gender Equity Technical Group. Mr. Tornieri has been working for over 20 years in the area of social development, with focus on gender equality, women's empowerment, social justice, gender-responsive policy/legal and governance reforms, institutional strengthening and capacity development across Sub-Saharan Africa and Asia-Pacific. Since joining ADB in 2004, Mr. Tornieri has spearheaded innovative approaches to mainstreaming Gender Equality and Social Inclusion approaches in infrastructure sector which led to the establishment of the Inclusive Energy Solutions' Program in South Asia. He is currently acting as SARD Focal Point for the Independent Evaluation Department, in recognition of the critical role of monitoring and evaluation to achieve inclusive and sustainable results. Prior to ADB, Mr. Tornieri worked as Social Development Specialist (GAD) at the Africa Region of the World Bank (1996-2004), Washington DC, where he led the Gender and Law Program in Sub-Saharan West, Central and East Africa.