IEEE WIE FORUM USA EAST

MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIRS

Mother's Day is a time to recognize and honor the women who shape our lives, empowering us to be independent and thoughtful individuals. As a mother, and grandmother, I aspire for my daughters and granddaughters to be intelligent thinkers who take proactive steps to grow, and improve, much like the objectives outlined in the CHIPS ACT! This federal law focuses on bolstering domestic semiconductor research and development to strengthen American supply chain resilience and compete against China's dominance in the industry. It provides funding for semiconductor manufacturing incentives, research, development, and workforce training, highlighting the importance of nurturing both maternal influences and economic growth. So on this Mother's Day, let's celebrate these vital influences by submitting abstracts to speak our Forum. But there's more to this celebration! For all the women out there, there's a puzzle with a hidden message in the next page!

Regards,

Dr. Charlotte Blair
